■ Condition Overview

Melanoma is a malignant tumor that originates from melanocytes, the pigment-producing cells of the skin. It is the most aggressive form of skin cancer if not treated early. Key points:

- Early signs: A new mole, change in an existing mole (size, shape, color), or a spot that bleeds, itching, or crusts.
- Risk factors: Fair skin, excessive sun exposure, history of sunburns, family history of melanoma, numerous or atypical moles.
- Prognosis: Early detection and treatment lead to a high cure rate; advanced melanoma can be more difficult to treat.
